MAYOR NAMES NEW DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF INDIANAPOLIS LOCAL PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT BOND BANK

INDIANAPOLIS – Mayor Greg Ballard today announced the appointment of Gregory R. Clark as Deputy Director/General Counsel of the Indianapolis Local Public Improvement Bond Bank. Clark will begin work in his new post on November 1.

Clark previously served as Special Counsel in the Department of Public Safety, Assistant Corporation Counsel for the City of Indianapolis and Chairman of the Legal Subcommittee for Super Bowl XLVI. Before joining the City, he practiced law in Jeffersonville, Ind., representing several municipal entities including the Jeffersonville City Council. Clark earned his law degree from Indiana University School of Law in Bloomington.

“Greg has an extensive background in municipal legal matters,” said Deron Kintner, executive director of the Bond Bank. “As deputy director and general counsel, Greg will focus on capital financings and economic development initiatives for the Bond Bank and with the Mayor’s Office. He will be instrumental in moving forward key redevelopment initiatives for the city.”
